

NIS Medical Assistance Program

Learn About Your Medical Insurance Options

Are you separating from service from your current employer? Aged out of dependent coverage? Need temporary coverage? Thinking about retiring? No matter what your situation, figuring out your next move when it comes to medical insurance can be overwhelming. You may have questions regarding your employer's medical insurance plan and what your options are on the individual marketplace.

Get Expert Advice

The NIS Medical Assistance Program, in partnership with AgentLink, is here to help. AgentLink's experienced and knowledgeable licensed insurance agents can help answer your questions, review all your options, and find the right coverage to meet your needs and budget.

AgentLink's licensed insurance agents can help you:

- See if you qualify for a subsidy on the federal government health insurance exchange
- Discover if there are better or less expensive options available to you
- Explore your options if you're thinking about retiring but you are not quite sure
- Find affordable individual ancillary products if you'd like to enhance your coverage
- And so much more

Get Started

To have a licensed insurance agent contact you, complete the NIS Retiree Medical Assistance Program Contact Form. No one will contact you unless this form is completed and returned.

- A fillable/downloadable PDF form can be found at info.nisbenefits.com/med-assist.
- Forms can be emailed or printed and submitted to the address listed on the form. You can also download the form, fill it out by hand, and either fax or mail it to the address listed on the form.

Once the form is received, a specialist from AgentLink will contact you to determine the best options for you.
